*"We are actually living in a time on the border of human history in which the cities are rapidly changing creating strong contrasts and extreme situations that are often unresolved and require us to take drastic decisions, to choose what is good and what is bad, what must be saved and what deleted forever."
[CityVision]*

On Thursday, June 13, 2013 at 19:00, at Galleria di Architettura "come se" Cityvision, together with the Consulta Giovanile Architetti Roma, launches a new and original format of talk, curated by CityVision and called A Gentlemen's Duel.

Through images of projects and new concepts created specifically for the occasion two international architects, Christoph Korner from Los Angeles and Heather Scott Peterson from New York, will compete in a real duel in which they'll argue five pairs of contrasting words for a total of 10 keywords.

Keywords are:

1. Sick vs Wonder
2. Man vs City
3. Good vs Bad
4. Past/History vs. Future/Vision
5. Contextual vs. Conceptual

At the end of the talk skills, knowledge and life of the two players who made the architectural design - in various forms - their craft, will be protagonists of an open session where the audience can interact. The event will be preceded by an introduction of Alessandro Ridolfi and Cityvision.
